

ECONOMICS WITH SPECIALISATION LAW

At IEGS, law is considered in the context of the wider Economics Programme, giving you an understanding of the role of the citizen and their rights and responsibilities within Swedish society.

By choosing the Economics Programme at IEGS, you will study a dynamic and exciting course using both English and Swedish. Economics and law are key subjects at the very core of society and this course, in particular, prepares you for university studies in a variety of business-related and social science subjects. Students from this programme have gone on to study subjects such as international relations, politics and philosophy as well as business studies and law in Sweden and abroad.

Please note: The law curriculum's focus is on Swedish law and these courses are taught in Swedish

Core Gymnasium (1250 points)

Course	Points	Year One	Year Two	Year Three
English 5	100	100
English 6	100		100
History 1b	100		100
Mathematics 1b	100	100
Mathematics 2b	100	100
Natural Science 1b	100	100
Physical Education and Health 1	100	50	50
Religion 1	50		50
Social Science 1b	100	100
Social Science 2	100		100
Swedish 1	100	100
Swedish 2	100		100
Swedish 3	100			100

Programme Specific (350 points)

Business Economics 1	100		100
Civil Law	100	100
Modern Languages	100	100
Psychology 1	50			50

Law Specific (300 points)

Law and Society	100		100
Business Law	100			100
Philosophy 1	50			50
Psychology 2a	50			50

Advance Specialisation (300 points)

International Relations	100			100
English 7	100			100
Mathematics 3b	100		100

Individual Choice (200 points)

Individual Choice	200			200
-------------------	-----	--	--	-----

Programme Project (100 points)

Programme Project	100			100
-------------------	-----	--	--	-----

Total Points	2500	850	800	850
---------------------	-------------	------------	------------	------------

Revised August 1, 2019 (Subject to change)